Transformation Of The God Image

"Transformation of the God-Image" by Edward Edinger is a review of C. G. Jung's "Answer to Job". Perhaps most valuable in Edinger's review are; (a) his numerous emphases of the parallels Jung illustrates between Christianity and the psychic Individuation process, and (b) his elaborations on Jung's explanations of the dualities in Christianity.

The God-image is realizing and revealing itself in the collective unconscious of humanity, which is to say “incarnating,” and we are, whether we know it or not, active participants in and vessels for its transformation.

The Transformation of the God-Image — Awaken in the Dream

The God-image is the central archetype, as Jung describes it, in that pervading medium of the objective psyche of the collective unconscious, so that when the ego perceives the God-image – when it consciously sees it for what it is – that very perception has the effect of altering it, you see, because of the nature of the connection between the ego and the Self.

Transformation Of The God-image | Banyen Books & Sound

The time will come when God will judge the world, but until then we must understand that He will transform us into His likeness. All we need to do is behold Him and allow Him to do the transforming. Conclusion. God is transforming us today into His image, and someday that transformation will be complete at His appearing.

How To Be Transformed Into The Image Of Christ

in Romans 12:2, the apostle Paul writes, "Be not conformed to the world." Berns' study proves how easily we can abandon what we know is right in order to fit in with a group. Paul adds, "But be transformed by the renewing of your mind." The world's pressure is an external force, while the transformation the apostle calls for is from within.

Transformation of the God ...

Six aspects of transformation that are part of the Christian walk with Christ. 1. "Be Transformed" - Holistic and not Compartmental. Our first consideration is the breadth of the work that God seeks to do in us. The transformation we are seeking requires our total and complete being or it is not transformation.
